You know you've got the passion. Who knows where it can take you?

If you have the passion to create, there are so many directions it can take you. The best Foundation courses help you identify your strengths, look at new opportunities and make good decisions. Exploration – of a huge range of disciplines – is key. Along with a total focus on your individual development.

At Cambridge School of Visual & Performing Arts (CSVPA) you will find exactly that. We are a specialist Foundation School. We measure our success by yours and have no other agenda. You will be someone of individual value from day one with your own working space, a wealth of opportunity, and lots of quality time and commitment from your tutors.

All our tutors are working artists and designers as well as teachers which means you will learn 'hands on', not only about theory and current techniques but also by gaining first-hand insight into the possibilities for creative career directions. You will also have your own Personal Tutor whose role is to help in all areas of life at the School.

And the result? For the last 15 years 100% of students with our diploma were offered a place on a top degree course in art and design.

Explore before you decide

During your first term we introduce you to the full range of media, gradually increasing and consolidating your chosen areas. It's a flexible, stimulating approach, encouraging work across disciplines – such as metal and fashion, video and photography.

We also offer one- or two-term pre-Foundation and Portfolio courses for students wishing to develop their English or art and design before starting Foundation.

The Foundation course provides the essential transition between A-level and degree-level study giving you the necessary qualifications and portfolio of work for entry to university, art institute or film school.

Your path towards a career in Art & Design

An environment to inspire your best

The joy of joining us is that you'll find yourself working and living in an environment of creative stimulus. CSVPA is situated right in the centre of Cambridge, one of the world's most famous university cities.

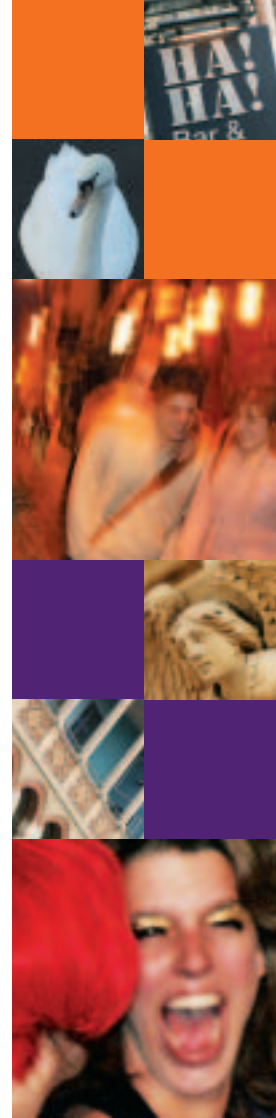

The School itself is a dynamic creative community with like-minded students and offers you the chance to showcase your own talents in exhibitions, our professional-standard fashion show and full-scale drama productions.

You will automatically be a member of the Cambridge Union Society, the famous venue for undergraduate debates, where you can see leading politicians, academics and media personalities in full, fascinating – and often outrageous – flow.

Then, all around you is Cambridge, with its world-famous galleries, gems of architecture both ancient and modern, museums of art and very live theatre.

Where the student lifestyle and streetlife are vibrant with youth, energy and individuality. Music, movies, fashion, food and shopping all reflect student tastes – and budgets.

On top of that, London, with all its major galleries and shows, is less than an hour away.

Daniel Black went on to Northumbria to study Industrial Design and went into partnership to create design consultancy Black + Blum...

"From the moment I began learning Fashion Design, Milan has always been a dream. I was so excited when the Marangoni Institute..."

...where he is developing a ground breaking range for the home designer market.

...offered me a place straight onto the second year of their degree course, directly after completing Foundation."
